

Just released! New Gold Medals available to all EcoGamers!

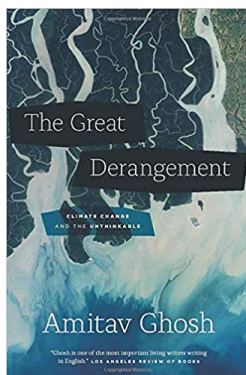

Want to win even more medals for you and your Neighbourhood Group? Our new EcoGames promo is all about WATCH and READ. This is a chance to learn about how other places and cultures are being affected right now by the climate and ecological crisis. When you've completed the challenge, simply email the code(s) to ecogames@victoriaunitarian.ca. Here are your new challenges...

EcoGames Code: WATCH 1 (Gold Medal)

This July, author Amitav Ghosh spoke at Vancouver's Indian Summer Festival about his book The Great Derangement: Climate Change and the Unthinkable. He gives a moving presentation of how climate change is playing out in Asia, a perspective that usually doesn't get the attention it deserves from our Western-centric media. You can skip the first 8 minutes, which is introduction. Here is the link: <https://youtu.be/S3t3Nteo-QI>

AMITAV GHOSH ON 'THE GREAT DERANGEMENT'
July 09, 2019

EcoGames Code: READ 1 (Gold Medal)

Read Ghosh's thought-provoking book, The Great Derangement: Climate Change and the Unthinkable. Are we deranged? The acclaimed Indian novelist Amitav Ghosh argues that future generations may well think so. How else to explain our imaginative failure in the face of global warming? In his first major book of nonfiction since In an Antique Land, Ghosh examines our inability—at the level of literature, history, and politics—to grasp the scale and violence of climate change.

EcoGames Code: READ 2 (Gold Medal)

Read Climate Justice: Hope, Resilience and the Fight for a Sustainable Future, by Mary Robinson. The former Prime Minister of Ireland tells moving stories of people from all over the world whose traditional ways of life are already under serious - and heartbreaking - threat. These are the stories that don't make the news and need to be heard, told by a very compassionate author.

